

Crown Web Composer

SIMPLIFYING WEB EDITING

Crown Web Composer is a lightweight, in-context and forms-based editing application that is a complementary addition to your EMC Documentum WCM platform. It is designed to provide a simple approach for managing web content for the non-technical business user. Used in conjunction with EMC's web platform, Web Composer reduces the need for specialized skills and training, allowing users to be productive, sooner.

CLICK THE PENCIL, UPDATE THE SITE

Crown Web Composer is a different breed of Web Content Management (WCM), designed with the knowledge worker's daily productivity in mind. Leveraging Web Composer simplifies the knowledge worker's day-to-day web content management tasks.

A simple click of the editor's pencil icon starts the process. Web Composer includes robust style management features that provide contributors with the ability to easily add, edit, and delete CSS style classes associated to their sites from within Web Composer. A full assortment of word processing features (including formatting, find/replace, copy/paste, alignment, etc.) can be directly accessed from the within the editor. This puts maximum control of the content back into the hands of people who know it best.

FLEXIBLE, LIGHTWEIGHT FORMS

Authors and editors can directly invoke Web Composer Forms Editor from within Web Publisher, update their existing rules configuration, and the desired changes will be propagated. The forms-based editing provided by Web Composer enables content managers to create and manage XHTML/Javascript forms. Web Composer provides the ability to define graphic selectors, x-selectors, repeaters, nested repeaters, WYSIWIG editors, textlines, calendar control and much more.

CONFIGURABLE IN-CONTEXT EDITING

Content Managers define the attributes of each in-context editable region within the stylesheet of their existing EMC Documentum XML templates. Web Composer enables flexibility in editing options, including WYSIWYG, plain text editing, static and query-based dropdowns, forms, and metadata editing. Administrators can configure the editable xml regions, set access permissions, and modify the user interface.

INTEGRATION WITH EMC DOCUMENTUM

Web Composer provides seamless and comprehensive integration with EMC Documentum. In addition to leveraging the security model and library functions (including check-in/check-out, versioning, and lifecycles) of EMC Documentum, Web Composer provides the ability to view Documentum object properties, start a workflow, approve a workflow, unlock an object and create a new Documentum file.
