Crown Partners Offers SharePoint Governance Solutions Two solutions mitigate the risk of uncontrolled content

DAYTON, Ohio – August 1, 2008 Crown announces the release of Profiler and Enforcer, two governance solutions for the Microsoft SharePoint platform. These solutions will allow organizations to continue benefiting from SharePoint's easy expandability while also gaining full control over the expanding content.

Profiler is a reporting solution that evaluates and classifies content in a SharePoint environment. It identifies un-controlled content, provides automatic classification, reports on risk and compliance and roots out any activities that do not fit in the defined business purpose of the platform. With Profiler, Organizations will be able to develop sound taxonomies and a complete governance strategy for their SharePoint implementation.

Enforcer is a companion solution to Crown Profiler. It leverages the classifications provided by Profiler to apply governance policies to SharePoint content. Because it automates the enforcement process, Enforce allows SharePoint users to continue to expand without worrying about complying with governance on their own.

"These solutions enable organizations to take full advantage of SharePoint's potential. They can simultaneously realize unprecedented gains in productivity while adhering to their organization's control policies," said Crown SharePoint Practice Director Ed Alexander.

Crown Partners also has an integration solution for Microsoft SharePoint, called Portico. Crown will continue to innovate on the SharePoint platform and plans to develop more solutions and products in the coming months.
