Crown Partners Introduces eRoom Extension to Award-Winning Bulldoser Center Software

Dayton, Ohio - Crown Partners, LLC, specialists in enterprise information management solutions, today released the newest version of its Crown Bulldoser Center software. Bulldoser Center Release 1.1 is an update to the Bulldoser Center platform, providing core usability, stability, and performance enhancements to benefit clients migrating content into EMC Content Repositories. Built upon Crown's award-winning Bulldoser technology, Crown Bulldoser Center offers extensions for clients transferring content from EMC ApplicationXtender, IBM Lotus Notes, and IBM FileNet. Today, Crown Partners announces a new eRoom extension for its market-leading ETL platform.

"All of us at Crown are excited about the strong market response to our continued investment in Extract, Transform and Load capability. Bulldoser Center 1.1 builds on that excitement by showing eRoom customers that the sure path to CenterStage is available now," says Malcolm Bliss, Product Director at Crown Partners. "In addition to fulfilling the pressing ETL needs of eRoom customers, Bulldoser Center 1.1 provides a consolidation and archive highway to Documentum from Lotus Notes, FileNet, ApplicationXtender, and more."

Crown has delivered hundreds of customer engagements focused on or involving upgrade or migration. In 2008, Crown Partner's Bulldoser software was selected by EMC from more than 80 Documentum partner solutions as the winner of the coveted "2008 EMC Partner Solution Award: Offering of the Year for EMC Documentum."
