Crown Partners Releases New Version of SiteBuilder Software

DAYTON, Ohio – April 28, 2009 Crown Partners, LLC., a leading provider of enterprise content solutions, announced today the availability of version 6.0 of its SiteBuilder product. SiteBuilder is a comprehensive WCM solution for multi-site and complex site management. SiteBuilder's wizard-based interfaces allow technical and non-technical users alike the ability to create compelling websites with minimum need for custom programming.

In the latest release, SiteBuilder now supports additional versions of EMC Documentum, including the most recent 6.5SP1 release. Existing WDK components in the software have been migrated to the new high-performance and customizable AJAX framework. Users will benefit from substantial usability enhancements and increased browser support.

“SiteBuilder’s expanded functionality and implementation on the new AJAX framework strengthens its position as the leading WCM application for multi-site and complex site management on the Documentum platform”, says Graham Hutchinson, Crown WCM Product Manager.

SiteBuilder is accredited in the prestigious “Designed for EMC” program to validate full compliance with EMC software engineering architectural standards. SiteBuilder 6.0 is available by download to Crown customers under existing maintenance contracts.
